TAFTVILLE

The Pomaham Wheel club held its 26th annual bake at the Drawbridge Sunday, with an attendance of 42 members, including several visitors from Watch Hill, Portsmouth, N. H., and East Hampton. The regular Rhode Island club bake was served, including corn, tomatoes, cucumbers, bread, clam fritters, corn, steamed clams, watermelon and soda water.

The feature attraction in sports was the baseball game between the married and single men, which the latter won, 6 to 5. The batteries: Married—Morris and Cermier; single men, Donahue, Morris and Troeger. Donahue was knocked out of the box and was replaced by Moen. Bill Kendall made the latest hit when he banged out a three-bagger.

Other athletic events were the 100-yard dash won by Bunny Hofer; 160-yard swim won by Romaine Beauregard, who also gave an exhibition in flower diving.

The members were transported in trucks and automobiles to and from the drawbridge.

Much credit is due Chief Donohi who prepared the bake and his able assistants.

George Meyer is spending two weeks at Watch Hill, the place where Mr. and Mrs. William Glenn of South Manchester.

Miss Anna Krause is spending two weeks vacation at Wanderlich's cottage at Pleasant View.

Miss Anna Volkman, Mrs. Martin Wohlleben and son have returned from a stay at Pleasant View.

The Pinetuck club held an auction Saturday afternoon of their household goods. The furniture was bought by the Pomaham Wheel club.

NORWICH TOWN

It was with sincere sorrow that friends here, as well as in other places learned of the death of Mrs. Grace Kingsley Peckham, for many years a resident of Franklin, Mrs. Peckham who was the elder daughter of the late Colonel Thomas Kingsley and Mrs. Kingsley, had endeavored herself to a circle of friends that extended far and wide; even to a foreign country, where there is one with whom she at one time was closely associated. Mrs. Peckham will be missed by those who had the pleasure of knowing her intimately but the memory of her kindly words will long continue.

She was the widow of Rev. Charles Peckham, his death having taken place July 31, 1904. For several years Rev. Mr. Peckham was pastor of the Left-Lowell Baptist Church, where Mrs. Peckham has always retained her membership. She was president of the Missionary Society connected with this church and for many years the society was welcomed to her beautiful home on the Lebanon road, where acquaintances and friends numbering about one hundred assembled to enjoy an annual outing. One of these outings took place a year ago next Friday, August 12, there being twelve from Norwich town included in the party which that day only brought together thirty-five, because of unfavorable weather. It was Mrs. Peckham's desire to entertain the society and friends more especially last year for two reasons:—Rev. A. D. Mathewson, the retiring pastor of the Left-Lowell church, was to leave America for India to become a missionary; and the fact that her mother was so far advanced in years. 94 Mrs. Peckham was devoted cared for by her daughter, Mrs. Peckham.

On Thursday Mr. Comstock was again removed to the hospital and the eye was removed Saturday. He was kicked several times, one kick landing directly in the right eye. It was thought at the time of the accident that the eye might be lost but complications set in.

Undergoing repairs at Iron Works—Tus. Guardsman, former U. S. Shipping Board boat owned by the T. A. Scott Co., is undergoing repairs at the Groton Iron Works. New tanks are being installed among other work. This job is keeping a number of employees at the plant working and will take several days.

Mr. Christopher Wren designed more than 20 churches.

CHARGED WITH THAMESVILLE BURGLARY

Charles Harris, colored, was arrested Saturday in New London for the Norwich police. A case against Harris was nolle in the New London police court Saturday morning but immediately upon his release Harris was re-arrested by Sgt. Nelson S. Smith for the Norwich police. A week ago Harris was found in possession of a large number of cartons of cigarettes in New London. The local authorities suspect Harris of having knowledge of a break in a local cigar store about a week ago.

QUARTERMASTER CORPS TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

A quartermaster corps of 26 enlisted men is to be organized in this city for the Connecticut National Guard. Notice has been posted in the army that enlistments will be received at the office of Major Charles E. Smith, assistant quartermaster general. Instructions issued by Adjutant General Cole are to recruit the corps with six sergeants, first class, six sergeants, second class and two corporals. Three of the sergeants, first class, must be stenographers and two must be able to qualify as clerks. Three of the sergeants must qualify as clerks and the others must be either automobile or truck mechanics.

The new unit will be the only quartermaster corps in the state and will be entirely separate from the Connecticut regiment of infantry. The new unit will drill Tuesday nights and the men will draw drill pay at the rate of one-third of the base pay of their rank for each drill night.

No officer has yet been assigned to the corps. One of the three quartermaster officers of the state staff corps will probably be given command of the unit.

NORWICH MAN FINED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

On a charge of reckless driving Edward A. Humphrey of this city was fined $25 by Justice Thomas F. Morton of the Waterford town court late Friday afternoon. A charge of driving while under the influence of liquor was not sustained.

Humphrey was arrested by State Policeman Frank R. Vickery of New London after he had completed an investigation into a collision in which Humphrey figured a week ago Saturday night on Durfee hill, Waterford. On that night Humphrey's car struck a cat owned by Robert Stevens of Pine Grove. Mr. Stevens who was operating the car had with him in the machine Timothy Sullivan of New London. Mr. Stevens was thrown from the car and received a fractured right ankle. Mr. Sullivan received painful bruises about the face and body. Both cars were considerably damaged.

AT OLD LYME

The new and handsome art gallery of the Lyme Art Association at Old Lyme was officially opened Saturday, the first day of the association's 20th annual exhibition. The summer exhibition at Old Lyme has been for years an event both socially and artistically. The whole artist colony and their friends and patrons have met around the tables on the lawn or in the library rooms, transformed for the moment into an exhibition hall, in joyous discussion of all that has happened since their last meeting, and in exchanging impressions of the paintings shown. It has an immensely added importance this year in the opening of the new gallery. The future home of the association is a monument marking the ending of the second decade of allied artistic endeavor, the success of persistent efforts in one direction, and a spur to a greater future.

MANY CORPORATIONS FACE SUPERIOR COURT ACTION

Steps have been taken by State Tax Commissioner Blodgett to bring to account officers of corporations which have been delinquent this year in submitting their annual income statements in compliance with the law which taxes the net income of corporations. Under the provisions of section 1338 of the general statutes the tax commissioner can bring the delinquent corporations before the superior court if they refuse to permit the tax commissioner to go over their income accounts for the fiscal year in question for the purpose of levying the required tax.

According to Secretary Potter of the tax commissioner's department, there are 300 corporations whose returns for the fiscal year ending prior to April 1, 1921, have not yet been received. This figure is the fact that the tax for the rest of the corporations subject to the net income corporation tax have already been sent to the corporations and to the state treasurer. The tax is payable on or before September 1.

On Aug. 12 Commissioner Blodgett will hold an all-day session with officers of 15 Hartford corporations which have been delinquent in making their returns. Letters were sent to these corporations calling upon the officers to appear before the commissioner at the call with their books of account so that the commissioner may determine the amount of net income received from the operations of said company during their last fiscal year.
